The yacht America which is going over the course with the contesting yachts started at 12:06. The Madeline won, beating the Dufferin 22 minutes. The America came in second. On the run to the lightship the Madeline gained on the Countess and returning widened the distance and came in a better winner than before. Kerry's Confession.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12.—The confession of Hobbs Kerry, the Otterville train robber will be published to-morrow. It is quite a lengthy document, but as to the essential facts, very frank. Jas. Cole, Bud [illegible], Clem Miller, Chas. Pitts and Wm. Chadwell constituted the gang. It appears that the train was robbed in accordance with a previously [illegible] plan, but the party had been riding over a large extent of country without finding anything to do and finally concluded to attack the train, doing it more from impulse than anything else. Kerry was not a regular member, but was with them during the raid through the [illegible]. He was present at the robbery of the train [illegible] the spoils. The police authorities had [illegible] in June last that Younger, James and others of the band contemplated robbing [illegible] Green Bay in southwest Missouri, and officers were sent there. The officers returned as soon as the robbery of the train [illegible]. The parties mentioned above had been indicted by the grand jury of Cooper county, but whether any vigorous means will be taken to arrest them is not known. The confession gives a description of the robbing of the train, substantially the same as that heretofore [illegible]; also the movements of the robbers for some time previous, and their course to the point where the band divided. It is a circumstantial account of all their proceedings.

Indian News.

CHEYENNE, Aug. 12.—Horses were stolen by Indians from Boyd's ranch on Blue creek, 25 miles north of Ogalalla, Nebraska. A man arrived at [illegible] this evening and reports having crossed a fresh Indian trail between that point and Eagle's Nest, and a prairie fire toward Chimney Rock, supposed to have been fired by them.

Wild Bill Killed.

J. B. Hitchcock, alias Wild Bill, known in Kansas and the territories as a scout of some prominence in early days, was killed in a saloon at Deadwood on the 2d inst. by one Bill Sutherland, who in justification of the act alleges that Bill killed his brother at Fort Hayes, Kansas, some years ago.

Fire.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 12.—The stable and car house of the [illegible] street railroad company were totally destroyed by fire early this morning. Of 175 [illegible] in the stables at the time of the breaking out of the fire, 50 perished before they could be [illegible]. Twenty-five cars and a large amount of other property was destroyed. One of the employes was badly injured. The loss is estimated at $50,000; partly covered by insurance.

Railroad War.

[illegible], Aug. 13.—The striking brakemen on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad at Vincennes to-day ran two coaches containing the officers of the road and a detachment of police on the side track, turned the switch and drove the police across the [illegible] river into Illinois. The strikers appear to have possession of the road. The Governor has been strongly appealed to for aid.

Water Spout.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Aug. 13.—This morning a water spout struck the line of the Virginia Midland Railroad [illegible] miles north of this place. The flood extended over five miles. A culvert was carried away, leaving a gap ninety feet broad and fifty feet deep, into which the freight train was plunged, killing the engineer, and Anderson, a brakeman, [illegible] lasted only a few minutes.

Crops in the East.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The fine weather, which has [illegible] for the past week, has enabled farmers to [illegible] in almost perfect condition their wheat crops, and has kept prices down to almost the lowest [illegible] struck this year. It has also developed the fact that an unusually large acreage has been [illegible] in almost every wheat growing section, and that the quality of this year's crops is far superior to that of last year. The farmers, however, [illegible] this cereal to market in small quantities, which indicates that they, at least, consider the [illegible] prices too low. The developments of the next fortnight are looked forward to with much interest, and it is believed that prices will recede materially, or [illegible] to something like their normal standing. Cash wheat has sold from 84½ to 99c, but by far the greatest amount has been transferred at nearly the inside figure. Receipts have been 50-[illegible] bushels against 263,000 in the corresponding week of last year, and shipments of 153,000 bushels against 382,000 for last year. Corn has ruled rather [illegible], selling as low as 41¼, but trading is restricted and heavy receipts do not hold out much [illegible] for higher prices. The receipts [illegible] the week were 1,577,000 bushels against [illegible] last year; shipments 1,148,000 bushels against 293,000 last year. Oats are steady at prices [illegible] from last week. The slack demand in Europe for all kinds of grain has made business very small, and the reports from California and continental grain centers of probable yields this year has restricted trade and reduced prices here.

WASHINGTON CITY.

A Disloyal Claim Discovered.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—A man by the name of DeHaven made a claim for the loss of a vessel destroyed by the United States, fixing the amount at $30,000. The claim was before the committee of the Senate and was favorably considered. In the papers [illegible] the claimant had made oath to his loyalty during the war. It happened that the case was searched out in the archives, and it was discovered that DeHaven had sold his vessel to the Confederate government, and his signatures were proved to be his own by comparison with his present handwriting to signatures upon vouchers for payment. Moreover, he had received pay for the use of the vessel as freight boat. These records being called to the attention of the committee, DeHaven may as well disappear as a claimant. In this one claim, a few minutes' work among the rebel records saved the government more than eight times the amount appropriated last year for the search.

Increase of the Army.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The House committee on military affairs to-day considered the President's message relating to increase of the army during the Indian war and agreed to a bill which passed the Senate July 31st, providing that the President shall have power to increase the number of enlisted men in each company of cavalry to 100 in such regiments as may in his opinion require such increase, provided not more than 2,500 enlisted men shall be added at any one time to the 25,000 authorized by the act of July 15, 1870, adopted, with an amendment that as soon as hostilities cease the regiments shall be reduced again and original men mustered out.

Alarming Condition of Speaker Kerr.

French takes the Oath of Office.

French, the new assistant treasurer this morning took the oath of office. He will enter on his duties Monday.

The Consular Bill.

The consular and diplomatic appropriation bill as passed by both houses to-day, makes provision for a United States minister at the Sandwich Islands—the House receding from its proposition to degrade the mission to consulate.

The Hawaiian treaty bill, judging by present indications, will pass the Senate by a handsome majority.

Indian Appropriation Bill.

The Indian appropriation bill was finally reported from the conference committee as it will become a law. It provides the usual amounts for salaries and payments required by law and treaty stipulations, but appropriates only the following reduced amounts for incidental expenses and all general purposes on the Pacific coast, namely: For California $[illegible]; Oregon and Utah $5,000 each; Nevada, Montana and Washington, $1,600 each; Idaho, $3,000; New Mexico $[illegible], and Arizona, $[illegible]. The amount appropriated for care and subsistence of Apaches who have been or may be collected on reservations in Arizona or New Mexico, is compromised at $[illegible].

Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation Bill.

The bill as reported from conference committee and passed by both branches of Congress to-day contains in lieu of the House provision requiring a reduction of 10 per cent on the salaries of all collectors of customs and employes of custom service who now receive more than $1,200 per year, a new section directing the Secretary of the Treasury to institute a careful scrutiny of the present condition of the force employed in the collection of the revenue from customs with the view of reducing the number of the same. Another section was added to the bill prohibiting executive officers or employes of the United States now appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, from requesting, giving to, or receiving from any other officer or employe any money or thing of value for political purposes. Offenders against this provision to be immediately discharged from the service and shall also be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, punishable on conviction, by a fine not exceeding $500. The salaries of the officers and principal employes in the various mints, assay offices and Sub Treasuries throughout the country are not all diminished from the amounts respectively appropriated for them last year. Some small reductions are made however, in the salaries of a few subordinate clerks and other employes in this establishment. The bill provides, as heretofore stated, for the discharge of clerks from the present force employed in the executive departments at Washington; by the change made by the conference committee yesterday on suggestion of Secretary Morrill, the bill now provides that all these clerks shall be discharged on the 10th of Oct., instead of Sept. 10th, Oct. 10th and Nov. 10th in three installments. The salaries of members of Congress and President are provided for at the present rates.

Pacific Coast Items.

The Legislative executive and judicial appropriation bill, as passed by both Houses to-day, contains the following Pacific Coast items:

The refining and parting of bullion shall be carried on at the mints of the United States and at the New York assay office, and it shall be lawful to apply the moneys arising from charges collected from depositors for separation pursuant to law, to the defraying in full of the expenses thereof, including labor, materials and wastage, but no part of the moneys otherwise appropriated for the support of mints and the New York assay office, shall be used to defray expenses of refining and parting bullion.

The salaries of governors, chief justices and assistant judges of Washington, Montana, Idaho, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona Territories are fixed at $3,000 each. All other Territories are given $2,600.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—A Times Washington special says the appropriation bills as finally passed made a gross reduction of about twenty-nine and a half millions below last year.

The use of Iron Steamships by the P. M. S. S. Co. Authorized.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The disagreement of the Senate and House on the bill authorizing the acceptance of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's iron steamships, was settled by the conference committee, and the bill has been finally passed by both branches of Congress without any material change in the provisions heretofore telegraphed.

Hawaiian Treaty bill will be Passed.

The Hawaiian treaty bill will be undoubtedly passed to-morrow. Senator West, leader of its Southern opponents promises no factious opposition shall be made and the vote for the bill will be reached to-morrow afternoon at the conclusion of a few more speeches.

Appropriations in the River and Harbor bill.

The total sum appropriated by the river and harbor bill is distributed as follows: New York, $518,000, of which $250,000 is for the Hell Gate improvement. Wisconsin, $444,000; Michigan, $387,000; West Virginia, $277,000; Texas, $247,000, North Carolina, $160,000; Ohio, $159,000; Virginia, $140,000; Oregon, $144,000; Georgia, $137,000, Indiana, $107,000; Minnesota, $100,000, Missouri, $99,000; California, $95,000; Maryland, $25,000; Massachusetts, $75,000; Arkansas, $72,000; Iowa and Illinois, $65,000 each; Pennsylvania, $63,000; Tennessee, $62,000; Delaware, $52,000; Rhode Island, $45,000; Louisiana and Connecticut, $35,000 each, Vermont, $22,000; Maine and New Jersey, $20,000 each, and balance of the five millions distributed among other States in smaller amounts.

Railway Postal Service Refused.

The postoffice department declines to order railway service from Caliente to San Bernardino. The connecting link of the Southern Pacific railroad will soon be in operation. The reason assigned for refusing the application is that the appropriation for railway service has been so reduced by Congress that no new routes can be supplied. This route, however, is served by the stage line, which can be made to co-operate with the railroad. An effort will be made this week to secure an order increasing the mail service between San Bernardino and Santa Fe via Prescott from semi-weekly to tri-weekly. The department has increased service between Silver City, Colorado and Santa Fe to tri-weekly mail, and if the proposed increase from Santa Fe to San Bernardino is granted, it is claimed that new life will be infused into northern Arizona with such improved facilities from through overland transportation.

Senator Sargent's Intention.

Invitation Extended to Senator Booth to Canvass Indiana.

The National Republican Committee will extend a formal invitation to Senator Booth to participate in the coming campaign in Indiana. It is not known whether he will accept the invitation.

Lamar does not Intend to Stump the Pacific Coast.

Representative Lamar of Mississippi denies that he intends to stump the Pacific states with Luttrell. He says he never gave any authority for such a statement, and that until recently he had no expectation of visiting California this year, although he had a great desire to do so, but not for political purposes, unless he is appointed on the committee to investigate the Chinese question, of which he would like to be a member.

His subject will be the settlement and progress of California from July 7th, 1846, to the present time.

An Error Affecting Ex-Secretary Bristow Corrected.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—An error having occurred last week in the reported testimony of Supervisor Matthews before the sub-committee investigating the whisky frauds, it is proper to give the following correction: In his testimony Matthews, referring to Collector Webster's letters to him on the subject of giving immunity to certain parties on condition that they would plead guilty, testified that Secretary Bristow thought the price was too high, and was, therefore, in favor of rejecting the proposition, thinking that more favorable terms might be obtained for the Government, by saying that the President, who had read the letter, was represented, through Bristow, as saying that hardly any price was too high to pay for evidence to convict the parties engaged in such frauds.

Sale of Gold.

The Secretary of the Treasury directed the Assistant Treasurer of the United States at New York to sell on Wednesday the gold received in payment for the bonds of the 5 per cent funded loan of 1881 sold on the 12th inst.

Probable Adjournment.

There is every probability that the present session of Congress will be brought to a close Tuesday or Wednesday at the latest.

The Wheeler Expedition.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Detachments of the Wheeler expedition are leaving here daily for the field of their work. The exploration and surveys west of the 100th meridian will be carried on during the remainder of the year in New Mexico, Colorado, Nevada and California. The sections of country to be explored are contiguous to the [illegible] already surveyed by this body or by Clarence King in previous years, and the triangulation will be an extension of the systems already completed to which it will be joined. There will be two points of rendezvous and outfit—Carson City, Nevada, and West Animas, Colorado. At these places the executive and scientific attaches of the survey, some fifty in number are now gathering, and at these points of outfit the expeditions will receive numerous additions in the persons of guides, packers, military escorts, etc. Seven working parties will take the field, it having been found that the work can be most vigorously carried on by a small corps of eight or ten persons. Each one of the Eastern parties will traverse the country on both sides of the Rio Grande south of the latitude of Albuquerque, New Mexico. The other to be engaged in New Colorado will proceed to the northwestern corner of that State, and in the course of the season acquire the data necessary for the completion of the maps of the Territory. Five parties will operate on the Pacific coast, taking Carson City as their initial point. From there they will make a survey eastward over the plains and isolated mountain region of Nevada and westward into the rugged Sierra Nevada range, where the triangulation will be developed over the Central Pacific railroad, working in the vicinity of Beckwith Pass, and as far towards the northern boundary of California as the shortness of the season will allow. As yet the topography of these regions is but slightly known, and as the tide of settlement is turning in these directions it has been deemed advisable to immediately cover them with a systematic geographical survey, which will also take cognizance of and report upon the natural resources of the region visited.

THE WHISKY TRIALS.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

General Porter Denies Wilson's Statements.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—General Porter was before the sub-committee on whisky frauds to-day in reference to Bluford Wilson's testimony. He said he did not allude to Sylph as a lewd woman in speaking of her to McDonald. Babcock made an explanation to the President and Attorney General. If witness had spoken of Sylph he would have been inventing a rumor which would have reflected on the President. Witness denied he told Wilson the greatest favor he could do the President was to shield Babcock. He denied other assertions of Wilson, and said he never heard Babcock referred to as concerned in speculations except from a newspaper representative.

Cochrane asked witness whether he did not know that certain papers were shown to the President implicating Babcock was the reason why the President retained counsel to defend him? He replied that he did not believe any papers were placed before the President implicating Babcock, further, the President intimated to him that nothing whatever had come to his knowledge which implicated Babcock, directly or indirectly, or in any manner with the Black Friday speculations.

In reply to a question as to what explanation Babcock gave to the President and Attorney General Pierrepont about the Sylph dispatch, witness said he did not attach much significance to it. [illegible] was not present with the President and Pierrepont when the explanation was made. It was known, however, that Babcock gave to them what purported to be the origin of the term Sylph as was done during his trial at St. Louis. Did not know the explanation made to the President and that in court were different. Witness was positive in saying he did not tell Wilson that Sylph was a lewd woman and had given the President much trouble, etc. Wilson however, did ask him what the explanation of Sylph was, and he told Wilson what he had heard from others although as he had before said, he did not attach much significance to it.

The question was asked whether the President at any time said anything to him about that matter, and witness replied that nothing was said by the President in his presence or hearing, and anything he may have heard as coming from the President he declined to state. Subsequently however, witness said he heard from Storrs that the President had said the statement made by Wilson before this committee was incorrect; that Wilson did not repeat this vulgar slander to him; that Wilson commenced saying something about an improper woman, when he stopped him instantly, and that he did not permit the recital and discussion of the matter. The President never, directly or indirectly, spoke to witness on the subject, nor did witness ever couple the term lewd woman with the Sylph dispatch. Witness explained his conversation with Babcock. In substance his language was that Babcock was a distinguished officer of the army and a graduate of West Point and therefore every officer in the army felt an interest in the matter, that the President believed Babcock to be innocent, but that if guilty, he ought to be punished. Wilson did say to him in the course of conversation that Babcock should be fairly dealt with and no injustice done him. Further than that he could not go. Witness did not assist Babcock in getting up his defense. He had not since he had been summoned as a witness went to see the President, but had purposely avoided calling on him at present; nor had he consulted with anybody, but had read some of the evidence and had a general idea of it.

Witness gave a version of an interview with Bluford Wilson touching certain letters written by Wilson to Henderson, substantially as follows: About the 1st of December last I called at the Executive Mansion to pay my respects to the President and family; in passing through Babcock's room we became engaged in conversation, when he said he had received an extraordinary letter, which he handed to me. It was in an envelope of recent date, from St. Louis. It appeared to be a copy of a letter written by Wilson to Henderson. It was the letter recently before the committee and headed at the top, "true copy." Then followed Wilson's letter to Henderson which did not purport to be an original copy. Neither Babcock nor his assistants recognized the handwriting. After reading, I said I did not believe Wilson had been guilty of writing it. I said I took no notice of anonymous letters in business. Babcock said the same, and did not think it worth while to show it to the President. This, it is understood, had been shown to Bristow and Pierrepont. I recommended sending it to Wilson, as an act of justice. He said Wilson had been out of the city and he had not had an opportunity to do so; I volunteered to take it to Wilson, and it was given to me. I called on Wilson and handed him the letter, and he appeared to know all about it, and was not surprised. I learned the letter had been lost or stolen in the court house at St. Louis. He said it was not a correct copy, and compared it with the copy in his book. I believe they were identical except the letters "W. H.," which were inserted in the copy. They were in parenthesis, after the word "Top." I said the letters "W. H." had evidently been interpolated, and he then explained the letter stating positively it had no reference to the President or Babcock or to the visit of the President and party to St. Louis during the previous fall. It related entirely to the whisky thieves in St. Louis. I think he said there was a motion pending to quash the indictment against some of them, and thought increased watchfulness necessary during the next ten days. After writing the letter to prevent their escape he meant to stand or fall by that letter. He wanted the truth understood. I said I believed the President had not seen the letter and said there was no necessity of showing it to him. He asked me to show it to the President personally and to state that "W. H." was interpolated, and explain it. He had none, and, of course, I had not said I saw this forgery in the original. It was in the same writing as the copy. Wilson asked my understanding of the word "Sylph," and the Sylph dispatch. I knew nothing except what Babcock told me at Long Branch, which I repeated to Wilson. It was that, in 1871, that General Babcock visited St. Louis with the President's party; that on one occasion McDonald pointed to a handsome but rather large woman and called her a "Sylph." It created considerable amusement and was afterwards referred to as a joke and by word. I did not understand that the President was there or that there was any reflection on the lady's character. That I ever uttered or repeated a vulgar slander on the President that could possibly be construed into a reflection on the President is utterly absurd. Wilson perverted my language concerning the "Sylph" message. I said no such things as he asserts. I subsequently showed the letter to the President and explained it. The President showed considerable feeling; he did not regard the "W. H." as important, but the general tone of the letter was objectionable. I suggested that he should send for Wilson and hear his explanation himself. Witness here deprecated the fact that his act of kindness to Wilson had drawn himself into an unseemly discussion about a matter unimportant to him and the President. He considered it disrespectful and an effort to set spies on him. During his visit to St. Louis the President said in conversation that Wilson ought to be removed, and his manner left the impression on me that he was going to remove him. The President never after mentioned this dispatch to me. The President made no statement about any conversation with Wilson about the matter. The witness declined to state what he may have heard the President say. Wilson's statement in his testimony was incorrect. Wilson never related this vulgar slander to him.

Wm. Moore, special treasury agent, contradicted in his testimony the statements made by Wilson concerning him. He did not see the Babcock letter from Joyce.

The committee have adjourned further examination of whisky frauds until the next session of Congress.

The men inside the fort numbering 11 refused the demand and began firing when the insurgents set fire to the fort which was destroyed and the besieged all burned to death.

The Walla Walla Watchman says: "Twelve of our prominent business men have joined together and formed what may be rightfully termed a mutual protective association. The Port Townsend Argus notes the erection of a flagstaff at that place 120 feet in length which it asserts is the highest pole on the Sound. CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.

The joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, prohibiting appropriations for sectarian schools, was read a third time in accordance with the order of the Senate last evening. Presiding officer Ferry then announced that it would take its place on the calendar. The order of the Senate directing its third reading having been executed, the question now pending is, shall the joint resolution pass, and two-thirds vote is necessary to pass it.

Windom, Edmunds and Kernan were appointed members of committee of conference on disagreeing votes of the two houses on the bill to provide means to defray expenses of the District of Columbia until December 1, 1876.

The concurrent resolution of the House providing for final adjournment of this session at 4 P. M. Monday (14th) was read.

Windom moved it be referred to committee on appropriations.

Several Senators objected, and it was ordered laid on the table for the present so that it might be called up at any time.

Harvey called up House bill to provide for sale of certain Cherokee scrip lands in Kansas; passed.

At the expiration of the morning hour consideration was resumed of the bill to carry into effect the provisions of the Hawaiian treaty. Sargent spoke in favor of the bill and West in opposition.

Windom made a speech on the Hawaiian treaty bill, and spoke particularly of the appropriations made at this session.

Sargent said in his speech there ought to be grave reason to reject a bill like this. Senators should consider whether there were not obligations resting upon them on account of the ratification of the treaty. The passage of the pending bill was invaluable to our commercial interests, because it turned the balance of trade heretofore against us, in our favor. Our lumber dealers, our ships and our manufacturers are all intensely interested in it. He next spoke of the Hawaiian islands as an outpost in the Pacific ocean, and said these islands in the hands of an unfriendly power would be a continual menace to the Pacific coast. An opportunity was now offered to this country to secure the islands, and thus probably prevent disasters in the future. The population was rapidly decreasing, and by strengthening American influences there they would naturally and ultimately fall into our hands. The natives preferred associations with the United States, and the effect of the treaty, if it should be carried into execution by this bill would keep foreign nations from them. He expressed the hope that this bill would not be defeated on account of any sectional prejudice against it, and argued it was of just as much importance to protect the interests of the Pacific coast as it was to protect those of New England, Georgia or any other section.

Sargent from conference committee on consular and diplomatic bill made a report and in explanation said the committee had agreed on one half the amount of difference between the two Houses which was an increase over the House bill of $83,000 for the diplomatic service and $107,500 for the consular service. The report was laid over to be printed.

Anthony called up Senate bill to print the report of the proceedings in the Belknap impeachment trial; passed.

The Senate then took a recess.

Upon reassembling the Senate resumed consideration of the bill to carry the Hawaiian treaty into effect.

Windom, from the committee of conference on the legislative appropriation bill submitted a report that the committee had agreed on the bill, and it was read. The report was agreed to.

Sargent called up the conference report on the diplomatic appropriation bill submitted in the afternoon.

After some discussion the report was agreed to without discussion.

Logan from the conference committee, on the bill regulating the issue of artificial limbs to disabled soldiers, seamen and others, made a report, which was laid over.

Windom reported from the committee on appropriations Senate bill appropriating $80,000 to pay judgments of the court of claims; passed.

The Senate resumed consideration of the bill to carry the Hawaiian treaty into effect.

Norwood spoke in opposition; but before he concluded his remarks the Senate adjourned.

House.

Singleton, from conference committee on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill, reported that the committee had come to an agreement. The following missions are practically abolished, as no appropriations are made for ministers to any of them: Portugal, Switzerland, Bolivia, Ecuador, Colombia, Paraguay, Uruguay, Greece and Denmark. The bill provides, however, for charges d'affaires to represent the United States in Portugal, Greece, Denmark and Paraguay, at annual salaries of $5,000 each. The following consulates, not provided for, are practically abolished: Swatow, Southampton, Malta, Cladisbock, Oporto, Santa Cruz, Port Said, Nantes, Orelschelle, Port Mahon, Valencia, Stollin, Marllham, Cyprus, Bucharest, Venice, Milan, Gaboon, Turks' Island, Hakodadi, Goderich and Windsor, Canada West. The bill, as it now stands, saves $200,000 from the appropriations of last year.

Randall moved to reconsider the vote by which yesterday's conference committee was ordered on the bill authorizing the District of Columbia to anticipate its taxes by a loan, the Senate substitute for it being a direct appropriation of half a million as the proportion of the United States to District taxes. He moved to refer that bill to the appropriation committee. After discussion it was agreed to.

On motion of Banning, Senate bill postponing the publication of the army register was taken from the speaker's table and passed.

McMahon introduced a bill to publish the proceedings in the Belknap impeachment trial; referred.

Rusk, from conference committee, on a bill to regulate the distribution of artificial limbs to soldiers and sailors, made a report, which was agreed to.

Randall, from committee of conference, made a report on the executive legislative and judicial appropriation bill. The report having been read in full occupying nearly two hours, Randall demanded the previous question.

Holman desired to have a separate vote on the amendments in regard to the salary bill, but was informed by the speaker pro tem that the conference report must be acted on as a whole. The previous question was seconded and was agreed to without discussion or division. Various requests for unanimous consent were made and objected to by some other members, who had not been able themselves to obtain like unanimous consent for their own propositions. The principal objector was Stone of Missouri, who wanted, but could not get, leave to make a personal explanation.

On motion of Randall, an additional conference was ordered on the Indian appropriation bill.

The House then resumed political discussion, and was addressed by Lynch, half an hour extra time being granted him by unanimous consent. He undertook to reply to Lamar's speech and said the political status of the colored race was a very unfortunate one in being made the subject of political discussion. Adjourned.

Turkish War News.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The Standard's special says the Porte has positively declared it is willing to negotiate for peace whenever the Powers are disposed to intervene, but it is not willing to agree to an armistice before the entry of the Turks into Belgrade.

The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says the Emperors of Russia and Austria, at their conference held at Reichstadt, agreed that when peace was concluded the Porte might take guarantees to prevent Servia from again assaulting Turkey, but the Turks should never be permitted to occupy a Servian town.

VIENNA, Aug. 11.—A dispatch to Las Ora, Paris, asserts that the Turks continue to massacre Christians in Bosnia. Many villages have been emptied, their inhabitants having been slaughtered and terrible atrocities have been committed, and hundreds of bodies are floating down the Una. Inquiry into the acts of the Turks in Bosnia is an imperative duty.

The Nationale reports that the Servians have renewed fighting near Alexinatz and Belgrade.

RAGUSA, Aug. 11.—The Prince of Montenegro has detached his march towards [illegible] point of junction with the Servians, for the purpose of operating against [illegible], and preventing relief to Mukhtar Pacha. Five thousand Turks landed at Antivari Thursday last going to Podgoritza.

The Standard's [illegible] special says Osman Pasha crossed the Timok river into Servia and encamped at the former position of the Servians. The country is entirely deserted by the inhabitants. The Circassians advanced to [illegible] deserted houses.

Servian Political News.

BELGRADE, Aug. 13.—It is rumored that Prince Milan's arrival has been the signal for all kinds of intrigues. The conservatives are reported to be agitating for the overthrow of the ministry, and their success is thought to be very probable if Prince Milan remains in Belgrade a few days longer.

The Standard's Belgrade special says there was no demonstration on the occasion of Prince Milan's return.

A dispatch from Vienna to the Standard says Prince Milan had a conference with Austrian and English consuls at Belgrade, and expressed his willingness to abandon the war if England and Austria would support him in his negotiations for peace.

A special to the Daily News from Belgrade says a change in the Servian administration is freely discussed. Prince Milan has become unpopular and his conduct is unfavorably contrasted with that of Montenegro.

The concealment of Servian losses has caused much distress. Only a miraculous victory or the open espousal of Servia's cause by a powerful state can restore the prospects of Servia's independence.

Reported Turkish Atrocities Denied.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The Ottoman embassy in this city officially denies that the imperial troops burn Servian villages or carry petroleum for that purpose as has been charged. The embassy alleges that sixty villages in Ottoman territory have been burned by the Servians.

The Elevation of Disraeli and its Effects.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Although Disraeli is to be elevated to the peerage he will remain prime minister. Sir Stafford Northcote will become leader of the commons. The general impression is that the conservatives are weakened by the change, but Disraeli is physically unfit to sustain the leadership of the house. It is rumored that other cabinet changes will be made after prorogation, namely, Sir Charles Adderly, president of the board of trade, and Lord John Manners postmaster-general, are to be offered peerages. William H. Smith, member for Westminster, and one of the secretaries of the treasury, is to replace Sir Chas. Adderly, and some subordinate members of the government Lord Manners.

The Daily News says for more than one session it has been evident that the task of leading the House of Commons was growing too burdensome for the Prime Minister, who never spared himself when public duty demanded his time and energy. His accession to the peerage is not so much a promotion as the development or rather crown of his career. Political consequences of change may not at once unfold themselves. Disraeli withdraws from the House of Commons at the close of a session in which he has been the center of strong personal discussion, but it cannot be doubted that his removal was contemplated before these discussions could be foreseen.

The Press on Disraeli.

The morning papers warmly congratulate Disraeli on his elevation to the peerage. The Times says he is the greatest member of Parliament that ever lived. Disraeli closed his debate last evening on the Bulgarian atrocities, by defending the government in the course pursued. This, it is believed, is his last speech in the House of Commons.

Fugitive Slaves.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The admiralty have issued a new circular respecting fugitive slaves. Passage of the French Municipal Bill.

VERSAILLES, Aug. 12.—The unexpected passage of the municipal bill gives general satisfaction as removing what threatened to be the creation of a complication between the powers of state. After its passage by the Senate the bill was returned to the Chamber of Deputies when Jules Favre read a report proposing its adoption as amended, and said as an act of conciliation such a course would do honor to the Chamber. All the clauses were passed without discussion.

Dufavre has been elected a life Senator vice Casimer Pierer deceased, by 16 votes out of 64. Chenolong, chemist, obtained 15.

The Wagner Musical Festival.

BAYREUTH, Aug. 13.—Four thousand strangers have arrived in the city to attend Wagner's musical festival. There are about sixty correspondents of American, German, and other newspapers present. A grand torchlight procession in honor of the event occurred last evening.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—A special to the Daily News from Bayreuth, reports that the performance of the Rheingold prologue to the Ring of the Nibelungen began at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. Every seat in the auditorium was occupied and the audience was one of the most brilliant and distinguished that ever assembled in Germany. In the gallery of the princes were Emperor William and Emperor Dom Pedro, the Grand Dukes of Mecklenburg, Saxe Weimer, Antehell and Baden, and many other members of the nobility. Among the famous composers present were Liszt and Gounod. About fifty Americans were among the audience. The auditorium remained in darkness throughout the performance, all lights being concentrated on the stage. Applause was only permitted at the conclusion of the act. The scenic effects were of great beauty; the performers admirable and the orchestra nearly perfection. The arrangement by which the latter was concealed from view was a success and greatly heightened the effect. Wagner declined to appear before the curtain at the conclusion of the performance.

Campaign in Oregon—Organization of a Hayes and Wheeler Club.

SALEM, Aug. 13.—On Saturday evening a large and most enthusiastic political gathering assembled at Reed's Opera House to form a Hayes and Wheeler club. A fair number of ladies were in attendance. The exercises were enlivened by music by the Salem brass band. Hon. Richard Williams having been invited to attend, made the opening speech of an hour, followed by Col. N. B. Knight, Dr. C. H. Hall and Gen. C. A. Reed. Upward of 250 voters have signed the roll. Silver for Greenbacks—Raid on the Sub-Treasury—Amusing Incidents.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—The announcement that the U. S. Treasurer would to-morrow at 10 o'clock begin the disbursement of $500,000 in silver for legal tenders had the effect to attract a crowd to the vicinity of the Sub-Treasury this afternoon, and at the present writing (11 P. M.) the sidewalks and doors and window sills in the vicinity are occupied by a numerous throng, evidently with the heroic intention of making a night of it in order to be first in line in the morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—When the doors of the Sub-Treasury opened this morning a crowd which had besieged the building all night, swelled by numerous additions since daylight, made a grand rush for the counter and for an hour and ten minutes, the clerks were worked at the top of their speed. Many of those who had put in the night on the sidewalk failed to obtain their silver; some of them were rounders and impecunious bummers, who had been hired for a small amount to obtain the first grab at the Treasury, and their employers had prudently given them orders to be filled instead of greenbacks, rightly considering that the latter would be too great a temptation for the honesty of their agents to withstand. Those failed to accomplish their mission as orders were strict to accept nothing but currency, and no attention was paid to orders. The night bivouac in front of the Treasury was attended by some amusing incidents. At a late hour when the weary watchers had become thoroughly cold and hungry, sleepy and ill-natured, a mischievous boy emptied several buckets of water on them from an upper window of the building. A storm of indignation ensued, and the half-drowned campaigners for a while seriously threatened to carry the establishment by assault, but finally contented themselves with bombarding the windows with emptied whisky bottles and other missiles. During the rush this morning the crowd was photographed by Bradley & Rulofson, whose gallery is opposite the Treasury.

Schofield Offers a Settlement of 40 per Cent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—In the case of Schofield, the suspended stock broker, it is understood that the creditors are offered forty cents on the dollar. It is said the examination of the books by the attorneys and large creditors discloses that great losses were made within the last few weeks in shorting stocks. The creditors are said to have the proposition under discussion. Schofield's liabilities will amount to $160,000. Liabilities in the Pacific Board are reported to be covered by his seat, valued at $8,000.

San Francisco Brokers' Opinion of the New York Mining Stock Exchange.

The leading stock operators here, while differing in opinion as to the value and permanency of the new mining stock exchange in New York, all concur in denying the idea that it will be able to govern prices, which it is claimed must always be fixed in this market. Many are disposed to think the institution will be very short-lived; others see no difficulty in maintaining it as an auxiliary to the local boards.

Rumor of Insurrection in Mexico.

Passengers by the steamer Colima, which arrived yesterday afternoon, report that when the Colima left Mazatlan on the evening of Aug. 5th, the city was filled with exciting rumors of insurrection in the interior. A battle had been fought between government troops and insurgents, in which sixteen thousand men were engaged. The insurgents were defeated with heavy loss. The rebels were reported to be falling back toward the coast, and it was feared that a part of their forces would attack Mazatlan. The city had been placed under martial law. Many stores were closed, and all the forces in the city, numbering about 15,000 men, were armed to repel the threatened attack of the insurgents. Connection between Mazatlan and the City of Mexico had been cut off by the insurgents several days before the Colima sailed.

Miller not Guilty.

The trial of Miller, alias Woodruff, came to a termination this morning. After the weak evidence offered by the prosecution yesterday, the defense this morning introduced no testimony whatever, but counsel made an argument in which he stated that certain points of evidence might be adduced to clear the prisoner of the charge, when the case was given to the jury, who, in about five minutes, returned a verdict of not guilty, and the prisoner was released. No one was much surprised at the result.

Billiard Match—Daly the Victor.

Protest against Withdrawing Troops from the Mexican Border.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 12.—Capt. Bernard yesterday received orders to have his company in readiness to leave for San Francisco, thence to duty on the plains. The Union this morning, relative to their leaving, says the force is necessary to protect citizens along the border from pillage and murder, and their withdrawal will cause settlers to abandon their homes. A real danger confronts a numerous body of American citizens on the frontier of this county, and the removal of the troops will be a serious calamity. We trust an effort will be made to secure a continuation of the protection of the military.

Horrible Accident.

COLUSA, Aug. 11.—Thursday afternoon, near Arbuckle, Dominick Dearny, a table man on Bayley's threshing machine, was struck by the derrick fork and thrown into the separator feet foremost. The cylinder tore off one leg just above the ankle and the other at the knee. Both legs were amputated, but the man died this morning.

Fire.

CHICO, Aug. 13.—The stable belonging to Chas. White took fire at 6 o'clock this evening and was a total loss. A strong south wind was blowing, and but for the promptness of our firemen several dwellings would have been burnt. White's house and furniture was badly damaged by removing. The fire was caused by little boys playing with powder in the barn. The property was insured.

NEVADA.

Tragedy in Nevada.

AUSTIN, Aug. 11.—Last night a tragedy occurred at Isabel's ranch, about 31 miles from here. The ranches of Isabel and John Wixom adjoin, and bad feeling has long existed between them on account of Wixom's buying a ranch that Isabel had mortgaged and forfeited. A recent clandestine marriage between John Isabel, a boy of 17, and Miss Wixom, aged 14, strengthened the bad feeling. The girl's parents persuaded her to return home last night. Dr. Wixom, of Austin, sent his carriage to the ranch of his brother, and the Isabel faction appear to have suspected that Dr. Wixom had arrived for the purpose of removing young Isabel's wife, and to have concocted a plan for the doctor's assassination. During the evening several neighbors called on Mr. Wixom, and one, J. Stoner, proposed a ride in the doctor's carriage. Stoner, Barney, McMann and John Ryan entered the carriage, Stoner driving, and went in the direction of Isabel's ranch. Six men, or six men and women disguised as men, rose from the brush and fired into the carriage, killing Stoner. The horses ran away, and the assassins pursued, riddling the carriage with bullets and shot. When the attack was made, the murderers were close to the carriage, and thrust their guns into the faces of the occupants. The people here are intensely excited at the dastardly act, and a strong party is pursuing the murderers.

AUSTIN, Aug. 12.—A party which left here yesterday for the scene of the recent tragedy on Reese river returned this morning. They report that the rancheros of Reese river assembled in force on Isabel's ranch yesterday and formed a cordon around the house in order to prevent the escape of any of the inmates before the officers arrived to make arrests. Towards evening the officers arrived and arrested the three young Isabels and the man known as the Mormon. After these arrests the citizens took charge of the Mormon and strung him up, with a view of extorting a confession from him, in which they succeeded. He is reported to have confessed himself and the three Isabel boys did the shooting, and that one of the latter is responsible for the death of Stoner. The assassins fully believed that the buggy contained either Mr. John Wixom or his brother the doctor. The facts recently elicited show that after the assassination was committed the assassins pursued the buggy a distance of fifteen miles, the darkness of night concealing the fact that the buggy had capsized in a mud hole about a mile from the scene of the murder.

Boiler Explosion.

Yesterday the boiler of the Chase mine exploded, blowing the house over the mine to atoms, but the employes escaped.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Address to be Presented to Lord Dufferin.

VICTORIA, Aug. 12.—A meeting was held here Thursday evening, convened by the mayor at the request of a number of citizens, to take into consideration what steps should be taken to bring prominently before Lord Dufferin the grievances existing between this Province and Canada resulting from the non-fulfillment of the Carnarvon terms. The meeting was large and orderly. An address to be presented to the governor general was submitted, and passed unanimously. It consists of several clauses, which follow up the course pursued by the Dominion government towards this Province, and traces the [illegible] of the Province in the various stages of the non-fulfillment of the terms of the union. It also sets forth the losses which have been caused to the people of the Province by the non-construction of the railway and the non-observance of the Carnarvon award, and after placing the entire case before Lord Dufferin in respectful but firm language, the [illegible] with the statement that the ultimatum of the Province is a request to Her Gracious Majesty, through his Lordship, to be permitted to secede from the Dominion unless the Carnarvon terms be carried out in their entirety. Several speeches were made endorsing the statements of the address, and demanding the fulfillment of the Carnarvon terms or separation.

THE [illegible].

Boise City has $200 of her celebration fund left.

The assessed valuation of Whatcom county, W. T., is $510,000, an increase over last year of $40,000.

The circus mania has broken out among the boys at Walla Walla. Daily performances are given at an established price of admission [illegible] of ten pins.

Mill creek, and in fact all the little streams which carve their silvery course through the length and breadth of the Walla Walla valley are very low.

Teamsters haul from Walla Walla to [illegible] ton for a cent and a cent and a quarter per pound. This is like working for nothing and boarding yourself.

The Olympian says: "Some of the [illegible] men of Walla Walla in opposition to the railroad, have 'weakened,' and now ship their grain by that 'odious monopoly.'"

The total amount subscribed for the Port Townsend celebration of the 4th of July was $508. Fifty dollars remained after all the bills were paid, which was divided between two destitute families.

The Republicans of Stevens county, W. T., held their county convention on the 23d ult. They adopted a resolution instructing their delegate to the Territorial convention to vote for Judge Jacobs for Congressman, and elected William Welles said delegate.

The Transcript says: "Some good work was performed at Blakely mill recently. The mill sawed four sticks of timber 20x24 inches, and 134 feet long. The sticks, as they came from the woods, scaled 36,000 feet, and were estimated to weigh between 70 and 80 tons. They were cut and hauled in one of the company's camps, near Olympia, superintended by Mr. Daniel Varner, to whom great credit is due in obtaining them. The timbers will be sent to San Francisco on the C. L. Taylor. These sticks, we believe, are the largest ever sawed in any mill on the Sound."

VIRGINIA AND MARYLAND BOUNDARY.—The commissioners appointed by the States of Maryland and Virginia to determine the boundary line between those States, will meet at Cape May about the middle of Aug. Virginia claims that the line between the States on the Eastern shore of Chesapeake bay, as established by agreement in 1868, is from Watkins' Point, at or near Crisfield, to the Atlantic ocean, and that the same line should be protracted eastward over Tangier Sound and Smith's Island to the mouth of the Potomac river, and she insists that this protraction accords with her ancient possessions and jurisdiction. Maryland claims that the line properly runs from Smith's Point, (the south point of Potomac river), where the river flows into the Chesapeake bay, thence across the bay by a right line to the center of Cedar Straits, near the southern end of Watkins' Point, thence by a right line to the Atlantic ocean. The point of line in dispute includes some of the most valuable of the oyster beds.

MR. TILDEN'S POPULARITY

Those pestiferous people who are always disturbing the peace of their betters by inquiring for the reasons of things have been busying themselves with searching for the secret of the popularity attained by Mr Tilden and have made a discovery which they insist proves his reputation to have been fictitious and his popularity a fraud They declare the secret of the whole matter lies in the fact that Mr Tilden has a correct and most utilitarian appreciation of the uses to which printers' ink may be put To be specific it appears that a short time before the St Louis Convention the distinguished Democratic statesman and incarnation of the principles of administrative reform and honest politics made an arrangement with the firm of Bates & Locke who conduct an extensive advertising agency in the city of New York, by the terms of which arrangement the said firm were to advertise him throughout the country in such manner as would help him along in his designs upon the Convention These gentlemen then clipped out of some of the strongest Tilden papers five short selections each of which was just the sort of puff which it was supposed would be most advantageous to the great reformer and enclosed them to the newspapers in various parts of the country along with this circular

BATES & LOCKE

So it soon appeared that all the Democratic country papers were copying, with evident approval, such items favorable to the aspirations of Mr Tilden as they chanced to find in their exchanges, and naturally it looked as if there were a spontaneous and very general expression of a choice for him as a candidate of the Democracy for President He was the man whom the country papers all praised and as these were supposed to be very near to the people, it was the most logical conclusion that he was immensely popular with the rank and file of the party. The great question with the Convention was as to who was the most popular man, and all the indications pointed to Mr. Tilden

These indications were very cheap at [illegible] apiece plus a trifling commission to [illegible] Bates & Locke, if they can only be made of any service in the November election. But we fear they have been deprived of most of their force by the exposure of the method by which they were inspired. Meanwhile, as an example of the ingenuity of the great reformer and the fertility of his resources in an emergency, they stand unrivalled in the history of political charlatanry. They certainly take the lead in all the reform plans of Mr. Tilden They could have originated with no man who did not possess a positive genius for reforming things and a native talent for despising everything that savors of chicanery or deceit

GENERAL CROOK AND THE NEWSPAPERS

We observe that some of the newspaper generals who plan successful campaigns in their offices, are much dissatisfied with General Crook's manner of conducting the war against the Sioux He is too cautious and altogether too slow He should dash forward, give the enemy battle in grand Napoleonic style and put an end to the campaign instantaneously and gloriously We have a very profound respect for these newspaper campaigners—at least we prefer to be with them rather than among the hostile Indians but somehow their tactics do not insure victory every time We recollect what a magnificent plan they formed in 1861 of squelching the great rebellion by a forced and irresistible march upon Richmond McClellan was an excessively cautious man to be at the head of a great army, and he went entirely too slow when the enemy was commanded by Lee and Stonewall Jackson So the newspaper generals decided that the order must be, "On to Richmond" At first this plan was not received very enthusiastically by those who had charge of the active operations of the army, but after a while the newspaper generals became so determined that the authorities at Washington thought best to adopt their ideas of the campaign and McClellan was urged to go faster He did go faster, and our army was prematurely if not unnecessarily sent to a most discouraging defeat That single example was disastrous enough we should think to make newspaper warriors a little chary about urging their views of the way to conduct campaigns upon those who have the fighting to do and the dangers to meet

Often as these paper soldiers have fought battles at their desks with lead pencils it is quite probable General Crook's experience in Indian warfare is worth more as a preparation for the work of avenging Custer and his brave men and that his plan of the campaign will be more likely to succeed than theirs would He understands Indian fighting as well as any man in the service and [illegible] upon to move as rapidly as prudence dictates The rashness [illegible] of Custer has shown what [illegible] expect [illegible] rushing on these savages without regard to caution and numbers A repetition of that [illegible] may be [illegible] with [illegible] certainty when [illegible] necessity [illegible] Indian warfare [illegible] which the paper generals [illegible] It is [illegible] but [illegible] of ambushes It is [illegible] strict [illegible] by the rules of civilized nations with generous treatment of the [illegible] they [illegible] defeated [illegible] without [illegible] They [illegible] should [illegible] the [illegible] cautions [illegible] Indian [illegible] necessary to the [illegible] General Crook will [illegible] the hostile Sioux [illegible] pursuit [illegible] ought to give them and it would be well for the newspapers to leave him to manage the campaign according to his judgment By so doing, they will avoid either doing injustice to a brave soldier or having to record another such inhuman butchery as that of Custer and his men

Tilden's organs make a great fuss about the reducing the taxation of the State of New York The fact that the taxes in that State this year are lower than for a few years past is indisputable but the credit is not due to Governor Tilden In 1874 there was a tax levy of $[illegible] to pay off indebtedness of the State In 1875 there was an additional levy of $[illegible] for further payment of indebtedness This year there is a levy of only $784,260 — the indebtedness having been reduced to a mere nominal sum by the former levies Whatever credit is due for the reduction of taxes this year is due to Governor Dix and the Republican legislature of his administration who paid off the debt before Tilden took hold of the State government

The Washington Chronicle is glad at the acquittal of Gen Belknap and gives its reasons therefor in this wise We are glad the matter is at an end We are glad General Belknap has not been convicted And we are glad the Democracy will not have the chance to gloat over the completely ruined prospects of a signally brave though probably somewhat imprudent man So far as we have observed no one denies the bravery of General Belknap as a soldier and we venture all will agree that he was probably a somewhat imprudent man

There appears to be a general rallying of the Germans in the States west of the Alleghanies to the standard of Hayes and Wheeler They as a class like straightforward dealing, and not cunning and deceit No wonder they are disgusted with the juggle by which a mongrel ticket, neither hard money or soft money as has been brought out by the Democrats. They who wish to carry the vote of the German citizens will always find that honesty is the best policy

Mr Congressman Burleigh, of Maine has destroyed himself forever by yielding obedience to his conscience instead of to the dictation of the managers of his party He signed the majority report on the investigation of Secretary Robeson and the Republican politicians of his district have decided that he must retire from public life

They say the campaign banners of the Indiana Democrats are to be inscribed on one side 'Tilden and Hard money' and on the other 'Hendricks and Inflation' That would be a needless contradiction Tilden having given up his hard money views

Murat Halstead editor of the Cincinnati Commercial, an experienced observer and as free from party bias as perhaps any other man in the country, thinks there is no room to doubt that Hayes and Wheeler will carry both Ohio and Indiana

THE VOTING IN THE IMPEACHMENT TRIAL

Although the result of the trial was the acquittal of General Belknap on the ground of want of jurisdiction of the Senate to try the respondent the reasons given by some of the more prominent Senators will be interesting. When called to give his vote on the fourth article of the impeachment Senator Logan said

I condemn the conduct of the respondent as strongly as any one but there being no foundation either in the Constitution or the well settled precedents of this country for this proceeding the proceeding is void This power of trial should never be exercised by the Senate of the United States except in cases clearly within the meaning of the Constitution This case, not being one of that character should not have been entertained by the Senate at all And for reasons heretofore given in connection with my vote on the preceding articles I vote 'Not guilty'

On the fifth article he made the following remarks This being the first time in the history of this country that the power of the Senate of the United States to try impeachments has been attempted without law or precedent to be extended over any and all citizens of the United States who have ever held civil office I deem it my duty so far as I can to put a check to this attempt unlawfully to exercise a power never delegated or intended to be by the constitution of the United States to any legislative branch of the government and without passing upon the facts in the case for the want of authority to try impeachment and for reasons heretofore given in connection with my other votes, I vote Not guilty

Mr Conkling when voting on the fourth article said This being the first attempt in our history to stretch the political power of impeachment over all citizens of the United States I vote Not guilty as the only mode of recording my judgment against such a doctrine and I so vote with a sense of relief arising from the fact that respondent is triable and is in fact indicted under statutes which impose on him if convicted in addition to other punishments perpetual disability to hold office and this is all which could follow a conviction here

On the fifth article he said when voting Joseph Story and every other commentator on the constitution who has treated the question as far as I know having recorded their judgment against the legal possibility of trying private citizens by impeachment I vote Not guilty in order to follow them in holding this proceeding void

Mr Eaton Senator from Connecticut said By the compulsory action of a majority of this court I am forced to vote and being firmly of opinion that I have not the constitutional power to pronounce conviction upon the accused because under and by the Constitution of the United States no other persons than those holding civil office under the United States can be subject to impeachment therefore that the Constitution of the United States may not be violated in one of its most important provisions and without any consideration of facts in the case by placing my action upon the sole ground that when Wm W Belknap was impeached by the House of Representatives he was a private citizen of the United States in no constitutional sense liable to impeachment I say Not guilty

The explanation of Senator Morton of Indiana was as follows I voted against jurisdiction when the question was raised on the plea of abatement The question was properly raised and at the right time and although the decision was against my views I regard it as settling the law of the case I recognize the right of the majority of the Senate to settle any question of law that may probably arise during the pleadings and trial of a case of impeachment

Mr Booth of California said when his name was called that if the question of jurisdiction was proper he would vote against it He was clearly of opinion that it was only [illegible] for the Senate by a majority vote to assert jurisdiction and such decision having been made it was the duty of the [illegible] When Mr Booth [illegible] there was [illegible] Mr [illegible] should [illegible] repeated [illegible]

Senator Harvey of Kansas said [illegible]

MONDAY MORNING AUGUST 14 1876

CITY.

SUICIDE.—John Canos a resident of Nehalem valley committed suicide a few days ago at his home by blowing his brains out. For some time Canos had been in poor health and was very despondent. On the morning of the 7th inst the deceased went to a neighbor's house near by and borrowed a gun. He then returned to his own premises and discharged the weapon, the load taking effect in the head producing death instantaneously. Some time after the rash deed was committed the body was found. The coroner was notified, and repaired to the scene. The following is the verdict held on the inquest: We, the coroner and jury appointed by citizens of Nehalem to view the body of John Canos, found dead upon his own premises August 7 1876, have duly examined the same and decided as follows: That the deceased came to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by his own hands. That the causes which led to his death in our opinion were ill health and despondency.

(Signed) WM HAWKINS Coroner

Deceased was an industrious and much respected citizen of that settlement and his unfortunate death sincerely regretted. He leaves a wife and seven children to mourn his untimely end.

COAST SURVEY.—The coast survey on the Pacific comprises about 10 parties whose labor extends all over the whole surface of the country, from the Straits of Fuca to Mexico and eastward to the neighborhood of Salt Lake, all under the superintendency of Prof Davidson. Over 200 men are employed besides there are seven steam and sail vessels and several pack trains. On the northern coast there will be this season a primary triangulation of the Straits of Fuca by Captain J S Lawson with the brig R. H. Fauntleroy, hydrography in [illegible] by Assistant Gershon Bradford, schooner Yukon and steam launch, survey in Puget Sound south Duwamish Bay, by sub-Assistant E Ellicott with camp and steam cutter, and topography and hydrography of the Lower Columbia river by J J Gilbert with barge Anchelon. The appropriation of the government to carry on this work is only $200 000 this year. The object is a complete knowledge not only of the coast with its harbors, bays, reefs and [illegible], but of the surface of the country along back and including all the high [illegible] of our mountains and valleys with [illegible], baghts and depressions. The work will take years to finish if carried out as [illegible] by Prof Davidson, but in the end will be of untold advantage to the country, its [illegible] their commerce, industry and pur[illegible].

Stephens* which sailed last Saturday from San [Francisco] for Portland: Geo S Wright and [illegible], H C Conison, Frank Dodd, H W [illegible] and wife, C. Dittenhoefer, J S Baldwin, J C Rand, W E Woodbury, C [illegible]port, Rev N Doane and family, A [illegible] and wife, P Powell, M Ellis, J H [illegible], P. Bungerst, Rev T Lemmons, Rev [illegible], Jackson Brothers, theatrical illu[illegible].

WHO ARE THEY?—Says the Hillsboro [illegible]: "Some gaudily arrayed gents [illegible] metropolis, four in number, drove [into Cor]nelius last Sunday and pompously [had] their team put up and fed at the livery, and after airing their dry goods to perfection and to the astonishment [and admir]ation of the "country folks," they [went to] the livery stable and inquired the [bill of the] hostler, who said "four bits." They [had to] turn their pockets inside out and [the] lining of their coats when one fel[low produced] 'two bits' which they tendered the [hostler,] saying that it was all they had. The [hostler] then took pity on them and let them have their "rig," when they drove away in fine style."

ELECTED.—The Liberal Association at their meeting yesterday elected the [following] officers for the ensuing year: President, J B Garrison; vice-president, Hon J M. VanCleave; secretary, H B Nicholas; [illegible] August Lobsein; trustees, J H [illegible], Dr R. G. Rex, Gilbert Gaylord, W O [illegible], and August Lobsein; ushers, Dr F P [illegible] and Mr. Black. After which Mr J [illegible] gave an interesting and instructive lecture upon the subject of Evolution. The society have engaged Dr P Harvey to give a [series] of scientific lectures, the first of which will be given next Sunday at 2 o'clock P. M. [illegible] "The Evolution of the Earth" and will be free to all.

LAUNCH.—Every preparation has been [made] and to-day the large new tug boat being built by Captains Holman and Gilman will [be launched] from the stocks a short distance [below] the Greenwich dock. It will be a fine [sight] to witness this handsome craft glide [gracefu]lly down the ways into the water and [to] which a large number will no doubt [avail] themselves. After being launched the [boat] will be towed over to the Oregon Iron Works, where the machinery and boiler will be put in position. During the present week the new government revenue cutter will be launched at Albina. Due notice will be [given] of the day and hour.

FOR MANSLAUGHTER.—Chief Lappeus received a warrant by telegraph from [As]toria Saturday for the arrest of two citizens of Portland, charging them with the crime of [mans]laughter by procuring abortion. The [parties] were arrested and taken to jail. One [was] held to appear at Astoria to morrow in the sum of $2,000, and the other in the sum of $1,000. Required bonds were furnished and the parties released from custody. The parties have been indicted by the grand jury for the crime mentioned and the defendants are required to appear before the circuit court T[uesday] morning at 9 o clock.

OATS AND TIMOTHY.—Mr F W Scott who [lives] on the base line road near Sandy has left at this office samples of oats and timothy. [Some] of the grain is ripe and some green. That which is ripe was sowed on the 10th of June, and the green grain was sowed on the 20th of the same month. The oats are remarkably fine and well developed considering how late the grain was sowed. The bunch of timothy was cut from a patch of meadow only a year old. It is as fine grass as we have seen for a long time, the stalks measuring 6 feet [illegible] in height.

FARM HOUSE BURNED.—Mr George W [illegible]ornant, who came in from the west side last evening, reports the destruction at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon of a farm house in Washington county near the Multnomah county line. The owner of the house was absent at a [illegible] at the time and it was with difficulty that the children were saved from the building, which with its contents was totally destroyed. The adjoining property was saved. Our informant has forgotten the name of the unfortunate farmer.

BURGLARIES.

Sunday morning about a quarter past 12 o clock the boot and shoe store of Mr C M Wiberg on Front street was entered by burglars. A large stone was first thrown through one of the show windows making a hole about eight inches in diameter. This was undoubtedly for the purpose of determining whether or not any person was sleeping in the store. The stone passed through the pane with a loud crash and falling on the floor made noise sufficient to awaken even a very sound sleeper. Finding that the noise failed to arouse any one the burglars grew bolder and by means of a large chisel or some iron instrument the front door was easily pried open and an entrance effected. The burglars could not have remained in the store but a few minutes as the only thing missed is six pair of shoes. Mr B L Stone whose large jewelry store is situated next door was aroused from his bed by the noise of some persons endeavoring to force the door of his place open. He sleeps in the rear of his place of business but fearing that he might be overpowered should he open the door to give the alarm he concluded to remain quiet. After working at the door for some moments the burglars gave the job up and left. It is supposed that the burglars attempted to enter Mr Stone's store after they had robbed Wiberg's. They were probably disgusted with the slim haul they had made, and were tempted by the splendid display of jewelry and heavy plated ware to be seen in Mr Stone's room. Officer Sprague who was on that beat arrested a drunken man near the corner of Second and Yamhill streets a few minutes before 12 o clock and took him to jail arriving there at five minutes past that hour. Mr Stone says it was just fifteen minutes past 12 when he heard the burglar at his door. From this circumstance it would seem that the burglars kept a close lookout for Sprague and must have known that he had gone to the jail and thus availed themselves of his absence to enter the store. No doubt they would have taken something more valuable had they not feared the officer's return. No clue whatever of the perpetrators.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to burglarize the store of Mr Stansberry at the corner of First and Salmon streets yesterday morning at 20 minutes past 4 o clock. A burglar by some means had effected an entrance to the store by one of the rear doors. No sooner had he entered than an assault was made on the door of the safe. Mr Stansberry who sleeps over the store was awakened by a suspicious noise down stairs which sounded like some one pecking at the safe door. He hastily dressed himself and entered the store which to his surprise he found dimly lighted. Before he could determine the situation of affairs the burglar became aware of Stansberry's presence and suddenly extinguished the candle, by the light of which he was conducting operations. In an instant the room was as dark as the traditional "stack of black cats" and Mr Stansberry not knowing how many persons were in the store and not fancying the idea of a hand to hand encounter under such disadvantageous circumstances wisely concluded to retire, which he lost no time in doing and give the alarm. He ran out and whistled vigorously which speedily brought an officer to the scene. But the light fingered gentleman had availed himself of the charitable opportunity afforded and hastily decamped. On entering the store and striking a light no burglar could be found. However in his precipitate flight the burglar left behind a sledge hammer and a long steel punch with which he was endeavoring to effect an entrance to the safe. It is decidedly unfortunate (?) that the burglar should have labored so hard without any consideration for his tools, and so narrowly escaped capture.

CASSIAR NEWS

A correspondent of a Victoria exchange writing from Cassiar under date of July 2d says: "Our mail is a most decided nuisance or rather, I should say the want of it. I wrote you immediately on arriving here and find the letter has been lying here ever since. This will go by first chance, whenever that may be. Very little gold is coming in as yet and no new discoveries of any account have been made this season. Sylvester's claim on Snow creek, a tributary of McDame's, is paying they say, 70 ounces per day. No other claim in the country approaches it. Thibert creek had a couple of new discoveries reported but they have proved insignificant. Mr Vowell arrived here on the 19th of June and has had a very busy time in court since. On the 24th a man died of consumption in Laketown and was buried next day, Mr Vowell reading the service. It was the first death this season. There are far too many miners here this season, and a good deal of distress is the result. Wages here are $6 per day but men can be had for less, times are so hard. An improvement is predicted when the claims begin to pay but many (even Chinamen) are going back. McDame's creek will be thoroughly prospected this season as the greatest rush has been for that section. The advent of the beef or sheep said to be on the way is an event anxiously looked for now. There is not to day a single pound of bacon or ham to be bought in Laketown, but a supply is expected in a couple of days. The weather has been very disagreeable and rainy, and generally very cold. There is still too much frost for exploring well. A few weeks later we may expect to hear of new strikes."

Not returning for some time parties went out to look for him and after searching an hour or two found him lying near a fence dead. A close examination revealed that his neck was broken. It is supposed that in chasing the calves his horse jumped the fence and threw him off. This opinion was strengthened by the finding of the horse on the outside of the pasture.

FARMING ITEMS

The corn crop in Yamhill county is a good deal above the average for Oregon.

A cougar killed 14 sheep for Mr Sturtevant near Oakland one night last week.

The apple crop in Clackamas county will not yield over one half the usual average.

The warehouse at [illegible] is receiving grain although no price per bushel has been established.

New wheat is only [illegible] cents per bushel in the Walla Walla country; butter 15 and 20 cents per pound and eggs 15 cents per dozen.

Two sheep were sheared at Eugene last week which yielded [illegible] pounds of wool—the fleece from one weighing [illegible] and from the other 11 pounds.

Nice ripe peaches are selling in The Dalles by the farmers at three cents a pound and watermelons, cantaloupes, apples, plums and pears are in abundance.

The Corvallis Democrat says: Harvesting is now being pushed forward as rapidly as possible and new wheat is being brought into town in considerable quantities.

Harvesting is in full blast in the vicinity of Cornelius. Some threshing has been done and the yield is quite flattering. Potatoes and other vegetables are looking well.

Mr Campbell of Yamhill sheared [illegible] pounds of wool from his Merino buck. He says this beats anything in the country and it does for all we know to the contrary.

Mr Geo Trumbull of Lafayette, has growing in his garden some exceedingly fine corn, some of which measures over nine feet and four inches in length and is still growing.

Mr Joseph Roberts of Douglas county last week sheared 600 stock sheep the fleeces of which in the aggregate weighed 4,200 pounds. This is at the rate of 7 pounds to each sheep sheared and is a splendid showing under the circumstances.

The Courier of Lafayette is informed that fall wheat with but very few exceptions is not yielding as well as usual. The average will probably be less than 22 bushels per acre. The highest yet reported is that of James Stewart—31 bushels per acre. Spring grain promises to be way up.

On Thursday of last week Mr Locke who resides four miles from Corvallis found a valuable Percheron colt dead in the pasture. The colt had been shot either intentionally or accidentally with a load of buckshot. It is thought to have been done by some of the nimrods in search of game. The colt was valued at $400.

A Walla Walla exchange says: Some of our deep thinking long headed farmers when they come into town in close proximity to a sack of flour will say like this: If flour is worth $4 per sack out of the store, then wheat is worth [illegible] cents per bushel. Now if wheat is but 50 cents how much ought flour to be at that lay out.

The Farmer says: Considerable new wheat has already come into Salem Mills and Farmers Warehouse, receipts being about 1,000 bushels per day now. The yield of fall sown grain falls far below expectations having been drowned out by excessive rains and choked by wild growth of weeds in many instances. Spring wheat turns out handsomely however.

A correspondent of the Democrat, writing from Siletz says: This is a fine country, capable of producing in abundance almost all kinds of grain, vegetables etc., and should the government throw a portion or all of it open for settlement it would be a most excellent place to live and its being thrown open for settlement is a mere question of time, as most of the Indians in a few years will be beneath the clods of the valley.

We learn that many fields of wheat in this valley are somewhat affected by the rust. This is something heretofore unknown in Oregon and its cause is something to which our farmers should pay attention, and if possible discover as by so doing a remedy may also be devised. The grain fields of Oregon have always been particularly free from every kind of plague and it is not encouraging to find that our hopes of immunity from pests are likely to prove futile.

Last year the Farmer made a note that Kinney & Co of Salem imported some wheat from Australia that was a variety new to Oregon with the intention of introducing its cultivation here and ascertaining if it retained the character it had acquired both for quality and yield. The same paper has been shown ripened grains of this wheat sown by Mr Wm B Stephens, who lives a few miles north of Salem and he also showed with it some of the original wheat. The new wheat was one-third plumper than the seed sown, and Mr Stephens thinks the yield will exceed anything ever known in Oregon with equal cultivation.

The Olympia Transcript says: "On Wednesday night a heavy rain fall doing considerable damage to crops. Mr James Smith, of Cedarville had a field of thirty five acres of oats laid flat by the rain. The oats were very heavy and the weight of the rain broke them down. He may be able to cut it with a scythe, but if the hot weather continues it will be lost. Tyrus Himes who lives a few miles east of this place had his crops badly damaged. He had several acres of rye in the field cut and ready to haul and about twenty tons in the same condition. Many farmers will have their grain and hay more or less damaged."

The Independent says: "The harvest in Washington county is going actively forward. The hay crop was never better than this year but from reports coming in from new crops of wheat just threshed it appears that the fall wheat falls below the average yield—too much straw the farmers say. And much of the early spring wheat on account of the continued wet weather, will fall short for the same reason. Some of the farmers sowed their wheat too thin because the price for seed was unusually high and this will tell considerably on the average of the crop. The best yield of fall wheat we know of in the county is that of D T Phillips who threshed 400 bushels from 18 acres. But there are a good many fields of spring wheat in the county that will yield from 25 to 30 bushels to the acre."

This last day of the week has developed nothing new in financial or trade circles The activity is at least average for the season and the outlook without any particularly discouraging features Money is plentiful for loaning purposes and a condition of trade to bring it out of the coffers of those who are holding it for high rates of interest is the principal thing lacking to remove the cause from which the complaint of dull times arises

The general merchandise market now about in the midst of what is usually regarded as the dull season shows more than the usual life exhibited during the month of August, and local merchants are far from being idle but between supplying goods in the interior and laying in their fall stocks they are quite as busy as ordinarily they are in September

England's Wheat Surplus

A circular issued by G H Roche & Co of Chicago, gives the following table showing the stocks of wheat in the principal ports of the United Kingdom July 30

	1876 Qrs	187[illegible] Qrs.
London	310 531	70 979
Liverpool	729 343	403 481
Hull	125 000	70 000
Gloucester	63 400	28 428
Bristol	45 114	[illegible] 528
Newcastle	13.268	[illegible] 409
Glasgow	265 068	147 885
Leith	95 063	30 000
Belfast		14 850
Londonderry		20 000
Dublin	200 000	140 000
Total	1 852 163	916,568

This largely increased surplus in the principal markets of demand is of course one of the main reasons for the present low prices throughout the world The new crop generally in wheat growing countries is said to be full average precluding any well grounded hope that at any time during the year prices will run up to the figure they have touched at one date or another in former years.

There is no important change in our latest telegraphic advices from abroad or in the local market in the prices of wheat or other products
